Forecast for the UK.
Issued by the Met Office
at 1945 on Wednesday 4 October 2006

** Valid for Broadcast at 2159 **

Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow :
A fine start in the east, except for some morning showers over Kent.
Staying fine well into the afternoon over northeast Scotland.
However, cloud and rain, locally heavy, in the far west initially will spread east across all parts through the day. Becoming breezy too. Temperatures around normal, but feeling cold in the wind and rain.

Outlook for Friday and Saturday:

Mostly cloudy with showers and spells of rain on Friday, with the most persistent rain in the southeast. Breezy. Mostly dry over England and Wales on Saturday, and initially elsewhere, but cloud and rain will spread in over Scotland and N.Ireland. Temperatures around normal.
