

National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment

A deep low pressure system is moving across the Atlantic, arriving into western parts of England and Wales during Friday afternoon. With mild air and strong winds some large rainfall totals are possible, particularly over high ground in south Wales and southwest England.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 18:00 on Fri, 20th Dec 2013 until 15:00 on Sat, 21st Dec 2013

An area of heavy rain and strong winds is expected to cross England and Wales during Friday afternoon and through Saturday. This will bring some locally large rainfall accumulations, particularly on hills, and following previous wet weather is likely to lead to some localised flooding.

This is an update to the Alert issued yesterday.

The public should be aware of the potential for disruption from flooding and keep up to date with latest forecasts and warnings from the Met Office, Environment Agency and Natural Resources Wales.
