

A map of the British Isles, including Great Britain and Ireland. The Shetland Islands, located in the north of Great Britain, are highlighted in yellow. A small yellow box with a black border and a black arrow points to the Shetland Islands. The rest of Great Britain and Ireland are shown in light green, and the surrounding waters are light blue.

Whilst the worst of the strong winds, associated with Storm Barabara, will have eased winds are expected to remain sufficiently strong through Christmas Eve (Saturday) morning to bring some further disruption to travel, such as delays to ferry services and bridge restrictions.
