19	—	.59	.59	W	W	More cool. — Morn. fair. In P.M. came in a breeze & Hazy — Most of Day a thick mist on the moor.

At 12 Soon after (if not before) midnight, it began to lighten, & before 2 o'clock this morning the flashes were extremely frequent, & almost continual, coming out of the N.W. light, to the S.W. — A strong smell of Sulphur was perceived in the house, and a dam was started, at the place, near the mill. — The families were alarmed, & a fire — The lightning increased from time to time, but the sky, but was strongest near the horizon, to the N.W. & S.W. — Flashing from hence towards the South, & appearing sometimes like <sup>solid</sup> streams & Balls of fire. — Other flashes were higher up, nearly west. — As the morning advanced it was attended with much Thunder, & loud, but at some distance to the N.W. — There was at last some Rain, but not much. — I am told it rained hard for an hour on the moors. — At 4 o'clock the Thunder & lightning were abated, & sometime after ceased.

At 13 Many acres (probably at least 100) of Blackwood Soil, on the plain, and much also on Brent Moor, are on fire, & have been so for some time; & as it is supposed, by people having lighted fire for drinking tea, but being in many separate spots, & some at great distances, I question whether it did not originate from the escape of the steam. — It does not appear to me to extend very deep (mostly not 6 inches below the surface) & much of it seems to be now extinguished, probably by the Rain this morning.
