Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
A bright day for most with some sunshine. However, there will be showers across northern and western parts of the UK, merging into spells of heavy, persistent rain across Northern Ireland, Wales and northern England later. It will be a mild day, but brisk southwesterly winds will make it feel cool.

Outlook for Wednesday and Thursday:
It will remain mild and unsettled with showers or longer periods of rain, mainly across central parts of the United Kingdom. However, there will be some drier and brighter interludes too, more especially to the north and far south. Winds will be occasionally strong, particularly the south.
