Here is the forecast for the United Kingdom for daytime tomorrow:
It will be a cold, frosty and icy start for many with an area of wintry showers across some southern areas soon easing. For many, it will be a drier day with sunny spells, but it will remain breezy and chilly with thickening cloud, rain and hill snow across western areas by the evening.

Outlook for Thursday and Friday:
Thursday will be a generally cloudy day with a keen breeze and rain in places but it will be much milder than of late. Rain will clear all areas on Friday introducing sunny spells and squally showers but also colder conditions once again.
