Forecast for Thursday 03 Feb 2022

Weather: Rather cloudy through the morning, the cloud may thicken up at times over western hills to give some patchy drizzle. More in the way of sunny spells developing towards midday, especially in the east, but still the risk of patchy drizzle in west. Cloud increases through the evening, perhaps some patchy rain towards midnight.

Chance of cloud-free hill tops above 600m: Little chance in west at first but nearer 30% in east and the west in the afternoon, becoming, over eastern hills closer to 75% in afternoon. Chances fall through the evening.

Low cloud and visibility: Periods or persistent cloud above 450-600m in west but cloud more occasional at times in east and in the west in the afternoon. Otherwise visibility good falling to several kilometres in any drizzle and evening rain.
